JODY CALLS, CADENCE CALLS, AND MARCHING SONGS

The material in this paper was collected from 28 July to 25 August 1962 at the Air Force ROTC Summer Training Unit on George Air Force Base, California. This location was alternately referred to as "The Garden Spot of the West" in the Colorful Mojave Desert" and "The Ass-hole of the World".

Now to the subject at hand. Why are these pieces performed? First as a release from the boredom of marching from place to place in formation. When a flight (in this case, a group of twenty to twenty-five men) is marching or double-timing from place to place, it must be in strict military formation and in step. Instead of counting out the marching cadence "One, two, three, four," all of the way, the troops resort to Cadence calls, Jody calls, and marching songs. These are usually catchy and enable the flight to keep in step because everyone in the flight sings the repeat and the chorus of the calls and in the case of the marching songs, they sing the entire song as a group. This promotes flight unity or "esprit de corps," because they have something in common.

As the period of training progresses the flight has common enemies such as the Tactical Officers (sort of a flight supervisor otherwise known as a "TAC" officer or a TO.). They find that they can release their grievances through the Jody calls without getting into trouble. For example, numbers 22 through 35 are gibes at a certain TAC officer named Fischle. He drove an Alcol station wagon, so a natural jibe was about his car. He also frequently wore a berserker-short uniform from which came the jibe about his knobby knees.

Finally, the troops get a certain ego-satisfaction out of coming up with a new piece that the guys in the flight like. Most of these deal with common experiences, the most common being sex. Along these lines, it seems to be that the best ones are the boldest. For example, the first time number four was heard, the performer used the final "saw", leaving the humor or catch to the implication of a more dirty word rhyming with "Hantuck". The next guy who performed it grew more bold, wanting to outdo his predecessor, and substituted the implied word for the implication. Finally, when the boldness reached total audacity (near the end of camp), the slightly perverted "Masturbater's Song" (number thirty-nine) was performed openly.

Addenda:

The make-up of this camp was all young men of junior or senior classification in college. About half of these were from schools in Texas; a third of the remainder from the West Coast; and the rest from points in the Midwest and South-East.

All of the Jody calls are followed by the traditional chorus:

Sound Off! (single performer)
 One, Two. (men respond)
 Bring it on out! (single performer)
 Three, Four. (men respond)
 Rack it on down! (single performer)
 One, two, three, four,
 One, two, three-four.

Another chorus is as follows:

Am I right or wrong? (men answer) You're right!

Am I right or wrong? (men answer) You're right!

Am I right or am I wrong?

Or am I right or wrong? (men answer) You're right!

Sound: Off! (etc.)

Had the crabs and the seven year itch,
Had the Syph and the Blue-Balls, too;
Gave them all to the Ring-Dang-Doo.

III. MARCHING SONGS

37. (To the tune of "The Girl I Left Behind Me")

Oh she jumped in bed and covered up her head,
 And said I could not find her,
 Well I knew damn well she was lying like Hell,
 So I jumped right in behind her.

Flipity-flop I landed on top,
 And started my organ grinder,
 She jumped like a goose when I shot her the juice,
 And now she's got a reminder.

Well I fucked her once, and I fucked her twice,
 And I fucked her once too often,
 Oh I broke her spring or some damn thing,
 And now she's in her coffin.

Sung by the whorehouse quartet.
 Have ya' got a hard on? Not yet!
 Are ya' gonna get one? You bet!
 You fucker, you.

38. Oh I stuck it in one ; she said baby this is fun
 (chorus) "Put your belly up to mine and ram it on, ram it on."
 Oh I stuck it in two; she said baby I want you,
 (chorus)
 Oh I stuck it in three; she said baby come to me,
 (chorus)
 Oh I stuck it in four; she said baby give me more,
 (chorus)
 Oh I stuck it in five; she said baby come alive,
 (chorus)
 Oh I stuck it in six; she said baby pick up sticks,
 (chorus)
 Oh I stuck it in seven; she said baby make it eleven,
 (chorus)
 Oh I stuck it in eight; she said baby don't be late,
 (chorus)
 Oh I stuck it in nine; she said baby this is fine,
 (chorus)
 Oh I stuck it in ten; she said baby come again,
 (chorus)
 Oh I stuck it in eleven; she said baby this if heaven,
 (chorus)
 Oh I stuck it in twelve; she said baby this is Hell!
 "Put your dick in your pants and take it home, take it home."

39. MASTURBATER'S SONG (to tune of "Funiculi, Funicula")

Last night I stayed at home and masturbated,
 It felt so good, I knew it would.
 Last night I stayed at home and masturbated,
 I did it twice; it felt so nice.
 You really ought to see my short stroke,
 It is so neat, I use my feet.
 Smash it! Bash it! Beat it on the floor!
 Wrap it around the bed post, slam it in the door!
 I beat my meat, I beat my meat, I beat my meat.
 Some people like intercourse,
 But I will beat my meat.
